

Free Lymphedema Screenings in March

Swelling issues of the limbs or other body parts can cause significant medical, functional and cosmetic problems. If left untreated, the swelling can continue to progress, thereby increasing the weight of the limb, decreasing the mobility of the limb, and adversely affecting the health of the limb. Swelling can cause wounds to develop on the limb. The individual is also at risk for recurring cellulitis infections.

If you have symptoms of lymphedema, please schedule an appointment today.
